

Helping to build a better Torrance

... a better America

In a short span of years, Torrance has grown from green fields to a great industrial city. Keeping faith with the vision of its founder, it has matched industrial expansion with municipal development. A model American community, it is a good place to work, and a good place to live. Above all, it is a good place for the future. Since the early days, the Torrance plant of United States Steel has taken its place as one of this city's leading industries. In these years, Torrance has pioneered . . . always doing its part to make America a better land for all. As Torrance has grown—so has grown the nation. United States Steel is proud to have played a part in this growth of a fine community . . . and to have shared with Torrance and its citizens in helping to build a better America.
